Outreach Events

Los Angeles County

11/2 - The Network of Ethnic Physician Organizations (NEPO) and the Chinese American Medical Association of Southern California hosted a CCI in-service for physician members. In addition to general information, topics of interest included program benefits, how to bill for services, balance billing, how to access continuity of care, and the benefits of joining a Cal MediConnect plan network. Attendees received CCI Physician Toolkits and numerous physicians requested further training and resources. This was the first of a series of events aimed at educating NEPO member organizations about Cal MediConnect.

Los Angeles County

11/19 - The Network of Ethnic Physicians Organizations (NEPO), the Korean American Medical Association and the Korean American Graduate Medical Association hosted a CCI presentation for physician members of each association. Attendees learned information important to their practice and asked questions about continuity of care, care coordination and how it helps beneficiaries and physicians, billing, how to work and contract with Cal MediConnect health plans, and how to advise patients about their options. The audience received copies of the CCI Physician Toolkit and other resources.

Los Angeles County

11/4 - Residents of TELACU Vistas learned about Cal MediConnect, eligibility for the program, and its benefits. The event, conducted in English, Spanish, and Korean, promoted awareness of Cal MediConnect for residents and focused on benefits they're entitled to under the program. Attendees had their questions answered and received resources to further help them understand Cal MediConnect.

San Diego County

11/5 - Providers, caregivers, and seniors and their families gathered to learn about Cal MediConnect during the Caregiving Forum for Veterans and Dependents. The presentation focused on eligibility for the program, the benefits of Cal MediConnect, and the positive impact of care coordination on beneficiaries' health and well-being. Attendees had questions about how the program works, how it is different from other coverage, and how to access its benefits.

San Bernardino County

11/11 - On Veteran's Day at the Fontana Community Senior Center, seniors and their caregivers collected Cal MediConnect resources and had questions answered by program experts. Questions focused on eligibility for the program, its benefits, how to continue seeing doctors who are not part of a Cal MediConnect network, and what to do if providers are billing for services. Many attendees had not heard about the program and were excited about the potential of care coordination as a key benefit of Cal MediConnect.

Los Angeles County

11/14 - English-, Chinese- and Spanish-speaking seniors and their families had the opportunity to ask questions about Cal MediConnect during the Chinatown Service Center's Community Health Resource Fair.

Participants collected CCI-related fact sheets in their language and learned about the benefits of Cal MediConnect, how to join a plan, and how to continue to see their current doctors if they join.
